9. Repetition is great repetition is great

- Repetition is a key part of learning & young children love it!
- Repeating the same games, songs, rhymes, & books allows children to focus on new words & ideas each time.
- Children need to hear new words lots of times (approx. 12) before they understand them & can use them properly

Picture Books

Your child may want to look at the same picture books over & over. Watch out for pictures they show interest in. Repeat the words they don't fully understand just yet:

Songs and nursery rhymes

Songs and rhymes are a great way for your child to hear the same words again and again. Sing the rhymes together & do the actions too!
