

Protect your baby with the whooping cough vaccine

The best time to get the vaccine is between 16 and before 36 weeks of pregnancy

Getting the whooping cough vaccine in pregnancy will protect your baby.

The vaccine is free of charge at a participating GP practice.

www.immunisation.ie

Scan the QR code to access information in available languages

